Ball Park Concession Is In Doubt

Alderman Says City League | TENTATIVE PLANS Wins: Kelly Says No Contract Signed.

"Park, park, who's got the park?"
The old butten game, paraphrased, is the official game which city officials, officiars of the City Baseball league and chiefs of the El Paso White Fox baseball leiuth are playing. For the time it has supplanted even the alluring one step and tango—all because both the White Sox, who will represent El Paso in the Copper league, and the City league, an internal baseball combine of six teams, want to use Washington park for playing purposes every Sunday during the coming summer.

Alcoranan W. S. Clayton, chairman of the park commission and the man who, ordinarily, would have the sayso in the matter, stated Saturday morning that the City leaguers have been granted the concession to use the park next summer, though no contract has yet been signed. A few minutes later, mayor Kelly declared that he believed there must be some misunderstanding, as the concession, in his opinion, had not yet been definitely granted.

The new game has more complications, apparently, than were ever in-

The new game has more complica-gons, apparently, than were ever in-rinded in the old button game. Strings are being pulled so fast that the score changes nearly every hour, although it will probably be the middle of next week before the winner is definitely an-

The president of the White Sox club is Robert Holliday, good friend of mayor Kelly and first assistant in the law office of Turney & Burges. In addition to this the White Sox team as El Paso representative in the Copper league, will have many sympathizers, who look upon it as the real ball aggregation of the city, and the City leaguers as comparative amateurs.

Fuerious May Make Compromise.
Bob Holliday, president of the White ox, says that he understands a meeting of representatives of both factions ill be held next week, when the question will be decided. Officials of the will be held next week, when the question will be decided. Officials of the City league say that they have already been granted the park and, if the White Sox want to 'play in it, they must make some sort of proposition to the city leaguers. Mayor Kelly thinks that the city council and delegates from both leagues will settle the matter amicably pext week, by arranging playing achedules so that both teams may use the park. Alderman Chayton says that, verbally, the City players have been given the park conoession, but implies that they must not be selfish about and refuse to let the White Sox play, too.

But fains, there is a ray of hope for plenty of baseball this season though the two leagues fail to agree. Both sides have declared that, in case they lose the park, they will build a diamond and grandstand somewhere else.
Compromise, though, will probably be

Compromise, though, will probably be brought about and the new game will be supplanted by real, genuine base-ball, in which both sides will forget the presenson squabble

Does not Mean Upper Valley Line.

Improvements to cost $350,060 have been started at the power plant of the Ellectric Railway company. A new $600 kilowait turbine engine to generate 7000 horsepower with an electric generator in connection is to be installed to supply the accidental power needed in El Paso and the valley for industrial and agricultural power needed in El Paso and the valley for industrial and agricultural purposes. This will necessitate the construction of an addition to the power plant, which was salarged dully a year ago to accommodate the increasing inyout of machinery.

C. E. Kelleg, general manager of the Electric company is here from east Texas and announced the beginning of preliminary work on the power plant to receive the new turbine engine and generator. Mr. Kellog said that the installation of this engine had no bearing on the construction of an additional integration. He was swaring earlier Friday night about 10 octook and a hurry call was sent in for the police. Friday night about 10 octook and a hurry call was sent in for the police. returned from Africa, and as he stopped down smartly from the train at the Gare de Lyon he was embraced by Gen. Castlenau, chief of the staff.
In the presence of an enormous crowd, Rolland is the hero of one of the most dramatic incidents in the conquest of Algiers. Gen. Bureand, with part of his army, including Rolland,
was taken prisoner by Abdul Kader,
but a few days later in the course of a great battle the Arabs were beginning to faiter before the French. Abdul Kader called Rolland, gave him his and entertainment of delegates to the Texas Federation of Labor convention in Ed Paso next June were discussed Friday night at a meeting of the convention-excursion committee of the chamber of commerce.

A committee was named to make arrangements and handle the funds for entertaining the visitors. It is composed of R. R. Orndorff, chairman: H. F. Brown, vice chairman; A. W. Reeves, treasurer; Henry M. Walker, secretary; Clashorne Adams, George R. LeBaron, A. R. Webb, S. G. Humphreys and W. C. Manning.

A round trip railroad rate of $18 between all points as far east as San Antonio and Fort Worth will be in class in the first during the convention on all roads into Ed Paso. From points east of Fort Worth and San Antonio the $18 rate will be increased one cent a mile. John R. Spencer, state secretary of the labor federation, has written secretary Andrew Reeves that the rate will be satisfactory.

Circulars of invitation to the June convention will be mailed soon to all labor bodies in the state. Freparations to handle a crowd of several hundred persons will be made by the airrangements committee. J. S. P. Gaffield and Charles Goldren were in attendance at Friday night's meeting.

Gold Medal by Company.
A gold, safety first medal which was the first one ever issued by the safety hureau of the El Paso & Southwestern system, has been presented to P. W.
Ankerson, engine herder for the Southwestern system.
The medal corresponds to the Carnegic hero medal and is given only for exceptional cases of bravery by men in the service of the road. The medal was won by Mr. Ankerson when he saved the life of a passenger at the union station, risking his own life to pull the man from in front of a moving Southwestern train. The medal is solid gold and was mounted on a silk fob with gold trimmings. The medal was presented with a letter from the railroad company, thanking Mr. Ankerson for his service to the company.
The medal is engraved with the employe's name on the reverse side and an appropriate inscription recording his act of heroism. The safety first

This is Tom Dreier's hunch to El Paso and he knows what he is talking about for he is considered one of the best advertising and publicity men in the country. Mr. Dreier was here Saturday as the guest of the El Paso Ad club. He will be the guest at a dinner to be given this evening at the Hotel Paso del Norte, where he will make a plain talk to plain people on the plain facts of publicity and advertising.

the piain facts of publicity and advertising.

Mr. Dreier is editor of Associated Advertising, the official publication of the Associated Advertising clubs of America which is published at indianapolis. His home is Cambridge, Mass, but he is seldom at home as he travels over the country much of the time, telling how to throw the light of advertising in the dark places of trade territory. At the present time he is following in the footsteps of presidents on a swing around the circle and will write a series of articles for the Sunset magazine on the west and southwest.

"Advertise your attractions here," he urged the Ad men Saturday. "I knew that this was a nice little city but I never realized that you had so much to offer and had said so little about it as you have. I did not know that this hotel was here that a bank like the First National existed in the southwest or that you had the valleys. We know of Dallas and San Antonio back east, but El Paso might as well be a date line is the newspaper for all we know about your advantages."

tent?

Among the people being cared for by the visiting tubercular nurse of the charity association, is the husband of a very worthy family, a man, his wife and two young children. The man has tuberculosis, and the poor little wife is working at anything she may find to support the family. The visiting nurse thinks that the man's health would be greatly improved if he could have a tent so that he might be out of doers all the time. Beside benefiting him, this would also remove the danger of the children becoming infected with the disease by having to sleep in the same room with him.

Any contributions sent to Miss Lil-lian Jones, the visiting nurse for tu-bercular cases, at 1007 North El Paso street, or telephone (619) will be gratefully received.
